Edell's Thoughts on '92 Team

The 1992 season finds us with probably the largest senior class we have had since I came to College Park nine years ago, 1984. This team will feature the vast experience of 11 seniors who have the goal of returning to the NCAA championships for a third time. They advanced to the semi-finals of the "Final Four" in 1989 and 1991. This group will be bolstered by seven juniors, 11 sophomores and seven freshmen. The sophomore class represents the largest class of freshmen we brought in during the then eight years of our coaching the Terrapin lacrosse team.

The real positive phase of the team will be the goal keeping situation. I have a most comfortable feeling with returning senior Steve Kavovit. He earned honorable mention All-America honors last season and will be a strong candidate to earn a place this year on one of the top three teams that are chosen. He had a 62% save effort last year. Sophomore Matt Back has excellent credentials and has proven to be a most capable back-up goal tender. He will be ready to step in if and when needed and is the heir apparent as the '93 goalie.

Our main concern is our offensive production. How does one replace the record performances of last year's pair of All-American attackmen Mark Douglas and Rob Wurzburger? They accounted for 128 of the team total 283 points as they scored record making 96 goals between them. Douglas, selected as the "Offensive Player of the Year" rewrote the record for most goals scored in a single season (52) and Wurzburger rewrote the school's long time record for most goals scored in a career, 137. That pair will be sorely missed.

Obviously, our goals are to put ourselves into the position to play in the "Final Four" and earn a reward of playing in the championship game. We began our fall competitive schedule at Penn's Franklin Field in the Pennsylvania Classic. It is our intent to finish in the same facility, the site of the 1992 NCAA Championships.

I think that what we'll be looking for in our new senior group will be the accomplishments of our senior players of last season that numbered just six. This marvelous small group came up big in establishing a work ethic that permeated into the team as a whole group. I hope this senior class can impart the same attitude among their younger teammates that the '91 group did. If we can get that same consistency in attitude and work habits, then the end result will take care of itself.

I think our conference continues to grow in stature in lacrosse with Duke now a real legitimate very good team. We now will have four tournament caliber teams each year.

The players are excited about the schedule, particularly with our hosting the ACC' championship tournament in April. Also, they are excited about returning to their true home field - Byrd Stadium. Byrd is the finest facility in which to play and to spectate from. The Terrapin lacrosse team and our fans are thrilled to be back in the stadium.

ATTACK

Obviously, this is the least experienced group on the field. With the graduation of the greatest goal scorers as a pair in Terrapin lacrosse history, the All-America duo of Mark Douglas and Rob Wurzburger set the all-time Terrapin record for most career goals, 137. In leading the Terps to the "Final Four last season, Douglas seared the nets with 52 goals and Wurzburger scored his single season high tallies with 44. The reorganizing of these two slots presents our biggest problem.

Putting together the attack units was the top priority in the fall. In doing so, we took a long hard look at a number of youngsters and a number of different combinations. I think of the five fall scrimmages, as many as eight different attackmen got experience. Our most experienced attackman is senior Chris Dail. Although he was a starter with Douglas and Wurzburger for most of last season, he has never been in the position where he has to be depended upon. But now, he has to step up and lead the kids around him.

Another step we took to help us from the experienced standpoint was to utilize senior Blake Wynot as an attackman. He started his career as an attackman, but was moved to the midfield to take better advantage of our attack. He could very well be back on the attack unit this spring. Junior Scott McMahon occupied an alternate position a year ago. He could be in the same position this year. He seems to excel when he goes into a game after he has sized up the flow of the game and comes in after sizing up the action.

A pair of '91 freshmen, Al Staker and Matt Parks who lettered a year ago, return as veterans now, although sophomores. Staker started some games later on in the season. He plays a hard-nosed style of lacrosse that is appealing. He plays a blue collar type of lacrosse - he has fun scoring and feeding. Also, his riding, checking and working for ground balls are important to him. Parks played on man-up situations last year and is intent on minutes on every rotation. He has very sound fundamental shooting skills. These skills are especially appealing at this time after you have graduated nearly 100 goals - 96 by Douglas and Wurzburger.

We have a third highly regarded sophomore in Jeff Archambault who transferred in from Ohio State. Jeff is a product of Mt. Hebron high school, the perennial Howard County (MD) champion. He has a huge frame (6-3, 195) that allows working toward improving his strength. With that expected improvement, Jeff can be very useful to the program.

We have two "true freshmen: that we are extremely high on, Mike Bordi and Rob Chomo. Both had productive fall practices and both demonstrated that whatever numbers and honors they brought with them, they now are at the next level. They are both willing to pay whatever drive required to be standouts on the college level. Bordi is very much in Staker's mold, another blue collar player. He has excellent size, 6-3, 200, knocking on the door to be a power dodging type attackman. Chomo has started since he was a freshman at St. Mary's high school where he earned "Player of Year" honors. This is a unique accomplishment as the MSA Conference is considered the best and most competitive lacrosse league in existence. He was injured some his senior year, but through efforts of his strength program, those days are behind him. He and Mike will be heard from in the not too distant future. Both were high school All-America selections.

MIDFIELD

We virtually return the entire midfield group of '91. The units will not be decided and settled until we open our season.

By class: Senior tri-captain and three-year letterman, Dave Willard. He is the last in line of the Willard brothers who have achieved lacrosse fame for Maryland out of the hot-bed of high school lacrosse, West Genesee, Syracuse, NY. Brian and Phil preceded Dave and gained All-America honors. As the last in line of the now famous Willard brothers, the '92 season will be the ninth consecutive and last year that a Willard has started for the Maryland lacrosse program. Dave is recognized by Edell as one of the most versatile midfielders to play here. Edell said he added a new page to his biography in the NCAA Brown game when he was called upon to defend starter Brown attackman and leading scoring All-American Darren Lowe with the traditional midfield pole. Like most of the things both Brian and Phil have undertaken, he was successful and might have been the key ingredient to the Terps' victory over undefeated and the #2 seeded Brown ten.

Senior tri-captain Craig Bullen has made a steady progression after joining program from corrective knee surgery during his senior year of high school at Severn. He has the offensive capability to score in the 15-20 goal range and that is what he's going to be called upon to do. Jon Schoenweitz, a three-year letterman, demonstrated his finest hour for the Terps in the ACC win over Duke when he was a dominant force in the midfield. Edell and staff are looking forward to Jon putting together a succession of performances comparable to that game. Andy Claxton has over his time here, established himself as one of the premier faceoff men ever in college lacrosse. In the fall, he spent nearly all of it playing or taking regular midfield turns. He could very well be spotted in regular MF rotation.

Junior group: Dan Reading was the outstanding freshman two years ago. He won the Levitt award for his selection. He has been a coach's dream as each year he has broadened his scope of abilities. He has not reached his full potential. Like so many of the kids, he works extremely hard at his game. Erik Elfstrum is a carbon copy of Dan in that both, two-time lettermen and both having solid sophomore years . Edell said that he can not think of too many underclassmen who best exemplify the program and make it tick, both on and off the field. They are two of the true leaders in the junior class. Bob Huggins has been an enigma. A remarkable high school athlete, he has been injury riddled his first two years. This is the year, first to stay healthy and secondly to step up and make the kind of contribution from a junior who has vested time in the program. Dave Goco, a UMBC transfer a year ago, broke his foot early last year which shelved him until the playoffs. After sitting out, Edell believes his situation is comparable to Huggins in that both are athletically gifted but who have been beset by injury. Both are being depended upon to make junior level contributions. Another junior, Jay Pasko, is the ultimate role player, as much as any player in the program. He plays within his abilities and has shown an uncanny ability to come up with opportune goals.

Sophomore group: Certainly Sean Crawford was one of the true surprises last season. When the year began, it appeared he would be in the reserve role in the midfield units. However, his practice play earned him a regular spot in the midfield rotation and he never gave it up. Comes back as a sophomore with a world of experience. Classmate Neal Dupcak is another in a long line of successful St. Mary's grads in the program. Intellectualizes the game as well as any of the young players. Has the ability to play who needs only to make the total physical commitment to be a regular contributor.

Freshman group: Jon Brothers comes from the same high school that sent us Jay Harkey and Jack Francis, Towson. Jon had knee injury as a wrestler. A standout faceoff specialist and will be groomed to be the successor to Claxton. Came up big in late fall practices when Claxton had mild injury. Brian McElhenny probably made as much improvement from the first to last day of fall pratice as any. With tremendous height, 6-5, his contribution depends on the rate of improvement he showed in the fall. Fellow freshman Greg Nelin fits Brian's description. He is a very gifted athlete with tremendous athletic instincts. Brian and Greg were the two most improved players. With their numbers, their playing time will be determined by their early play. Along with Brothers, the three dedicated themselves with improvement so that they will be prepared.

CLOSE DEFENSE

Headed by Brian Burlace, senior tri-captain, a definite candidate for the best defensive player in lacrosse for the '92 season. Many thought he was the best last year as he gained 2nd. team All-American honors. He also earned lst. team All-ACC recognition for the second straight year. His captaincy marks the second consecutive season he has been so honored, the first time in Edell's 19 years as a head lacrosse coach. During his career, he has been called upon to play, not only the opponents' top attackman, but outstanding midfielders. His athleticism has enabled him to be effective anywhere on the defensive end of the field. Also, an offensive threat any time he crosses the midline in offensive situations. Had three goals last season, including an important score late in the game in the NCAA's when the Terps defeated Brown in the quarter-final game at Brown. He is a great and respected team leader, but his leadership style is more effective - he leads by example. Steve Hayes joins Burlace with outstanding credentials. The sophomore was voted the teams' best freshman of the '91 season. His early play earned him a starting job as a frosh and stayed there all year. An intelligent youngster. At 6-2 and 200, he gives a very athletic key player on the close defense unit. Dan Robbins, the ACC "Rookie of the Year", finishes off the standout starting defensive trio. Depending on the situation dictated, he played both close defense and in the defensive midfield. Is very similar to Hayes in that both are gifted in all the things you look for in a defenseman. Danny has size, strength, speed and quickness. This sophomore pair is the backbone for defense of the future. Joining the starting trio is dependable Matt Ritter, a two-timer letter winner. His primary task is a crease defender. He stands for a lot of things the coaches want to see. He seems to get the most out of himself as he maximizes his abilities. Matt is one of the hardest workers on the team. Senior Mike Kozak will test out as one of the strongest players in the program. He will back up at close defense and on man-down situations. Steve Weinress, a transfer from Syracuse, will give the Terps three years of playing time to help the close defense. His situation is a lot like some of the other transfers as school is out where he fits into the final plans. The decision on his role will be made early in the pre-season practices as to where he will fit into as a new reserve defenseman. Freshman Dan Radebaugh, Loyola high school, logged quite a lot of minutes of competition in the fall. He was placed in pressure situations and acquitted himself well. He will be given chance to work him in with two veterans at times as the situation presents. Another highly sought after defenseman is Brian Yates. Out of the very strong and competitive MSA conference Calvert Hall high school. He will, like Radebaugh, spend most of the spring learning the defensive system and prepare himself to be ready if and when needed.

GOAL

Senior Steve Kavovit, an All-America transfer from Herkimer Junior College, has quickly emerged, arguably, the best net minder in lacrosse. He was demonstrably the most improved Maryland player from the '90 season to the '91 season. Unbiased observers have remarked that his game in Providence in the quarter-final game against Brown in the NCAA's ranks with some of the top goal tending efforts ever coming up with a phenominal 29 saves against one of the nation;'s most powerful offenses. Steve credits much of his success to the tutelage of Coach Tom McClelland. Has always been a good stopper. He works to improve his out of cage to the level of his in cage ability to give him a complete goalie package. His success in clearing is his intelligence. The defensive platoon always knows where he is. He is not the type to be in a high risk position - you're going to have to beat him. Matt Back lends outstanding talent in the cage as the back-up and definite successor as the goalie for the future years. Despite limited play last year, the sophomore constantly works to prepare himself when he is called upon.

Dick Edell

Head Coach

Edell begins the 1992 season for the 19th consecutive year as a head coach. He enters this season coaching the Terrapins for the ninth consecutive season. It marks the third longest tenure of a Terp coach in the long history of Maryland lacrosse, begun in 1924. In his eight years guiding the Terps, he has 69 wins and 31 losses, a 69% winning mark for the 100 games he has coached at College Park. He started his coaching career at the University of Baltimore. After four years there he moved on to West Point where he coached the Army 10 for seven years. He was sought after and came to Maryland in 1984.

The goal set by the highly regarded strong, affable and effervescent coach is to regain the Atlantic Coast Conference Championship which has eluded him the past two years and earn back-to-back appearances to the NCAA Championships and a berth for back-to-back participation in the "Final Four".

The '92 team put together by Edell and his staff features the largest senior class in his nine years. They will feature the vast experience as 11 seniors who will have the goal of returning to the NCAA Championships and the NCAA "Final Four" for the third time in their career. They advanced to the "Final Four" in 1989 as freshman and in 1991 as juniors. The sophomore class represents the largest class Edell brought in during his eight years as the original class numbered 14.

In his eight years, Edell has guided the Terps to four NCAA appearances, '86, 87', '89, and '91 and three ACC Championships, '85, '87, and '89. His '89 successes brought him his third ACC title and into the NCAA's for the third time in the six years, advancing to the NCAA semi-finals for the second time. For his achievement, he was voted the ACC "Coach of the Year.

The '87 team was ranked #1 in the nation in the final USILA poll and advanced to the NCAA semi-finals, finishing with a 12-1 season. The 1987, 11-0 undefeated regular season wins, were the most since the 11-0 success of the 1953 national championship team, 35 years ago. The #1 ranking marked only the second time in 11 years, 1976, a Terrapin ten was top ranked during the regular season.

Edell came to Maryland after seven successful years at Army. His winning tradition lengthened with his six-year record: 7-4, 7-5, 10-3, 12-1, 6-4, 10-4, 7-5 and last year's mark of 10-5. His six-year overall record now stands at 69 victories and 31 losses for a 69% winning mark.

He began his head lacrosse coaching with a four-year stint at the University of Baltimore, 1973-76 and had a 45-23 record. In those four years, he took the team to the NCAA's three times. In 1977, Edell moved on to the United States Military Academy where he would coach the Army ten for seven years, 1977-83. He led the Cadets into the NCAA's four years. He was selected as national Coach of the Year" in 1978. His seven-year record was a 73% winning success, 66-24. His 19-year head coaching record while at U. of Baltimore, Army, and Maryland reads 180 wins and 78 losses, a .70% overall winning effort.

He served as President of the U.S. Lacrosse Coaches Association in 1983. He was one of the five finalists for Coach of the Year" in 1987, won by Cornell's Richie Moran, a former star midfielder for the Terrapins.

Edell was a two-time All-American midfielder at Towson State. He graduated in 1967 with a B.S in Physical Education. He later went on to acquire his Master's Degree in Education from Western Maryland (1970) and a Master of Science from Baltimore University, 1976. The 48-year old Edell and his wife of 25 years, Dolores, are the parents of four children, Lisa, 22, Kris, 18; Gregg, 13; and Erin, 9. Lisa and Kris attend Maryland and both work with the lacrosse team as student managers.

Dave Slafkosky

Assistant Coach

Coach "Slaf", as he is affectionately known, is entering his ninth season as Edell's assistant and right-hand man. When Edell was named head coach of the Terrapins, the only request he made, and insisted upon, before accepting the job was to bring his Army assistant with him. He was Army's defensive coordinator for seven years with Edell at West Point.

After seven years as the Terps' defensive coach, he took over last season heading the offense and will again this year head the development of the offense and all offensive responsibilities. In his seven years as the Terps' defensive coach, his skills were recognized by his peers as one of the very best. His teachings brought all-America and all-star honors to a number of his goalies and close defensemen. During the 1991 "Final Four" season, he put together one of the most powerful offensive forces that produced 187 goals and a pair of attack all-Americans, Mark Douglas and Rob Wurzburger, that combined for 96 goals as they broke all time scoring records and records for goals scored in a single season. Wurzburger claimed the career scoring mark while Douglas set the goal scoring record for a single season.

A 1974 graduate of the Johns Hopkins University, Dave was a midfielder for the Blue Jays and helped lead them to the NCAA Championship.

Dave and his wife Michelle, have four children: Daniel, 11; Sarah, 8; Kevin 4; and Alex, born Christmas Eve of 1990.

Tom McClelland

Assistant Coach

McClelland begins his second year with the Terrapins as assistant defensive coordinator. His top and primary duty is as coach of the Terrapin goalies.

Tom came to Maryland from Loyola College where he coached the Greyhound goalies for two years. His vast talent handling the goaltenders was evidenced last season. He took an inexperienced junior goalie, Steve Kavovit, as a personal project and developed him into a standout netminder and onto all-America recognition. Kavovit, under the tutelage of Tom, will be a strong force in the teams' success this season. Steve credits his coach for his success of last season.

Tom earned second team all-America honors his senior season, 1988, as his outstanding play in the nets helped Loyola to a 12-2 record and a first ever berth in the NCAA tournament.

A four-year starter, he overcame several serious injuries to post one of the finest career goals-against-averages ever at Loyola. He earned the ECAC Medal of Merit following his senior season. He was a first round draft choice of the Baltimore Thunder in 1988.

The Annapolis native was a 1984 graduate of St. Mary's High School where he won all-America honors. He also earned first team goalie recognition from the Annapolis Capital and the Baltimore Sunpapers.

Although the midfield units were unsettled through the fall and early pre -season practices, Bullen seems a cinch to anchor the starting midfield ... has the offensive capability to score in the 15-10 goal range ... will be called upon for that effort ... has great instinctive abilities and has one of the hardest shots on the team ... is especially effective on extra man situations ... played in 14 games last season ... had 16 points on 9 goals and 7 assists, 26% on 35 shots ... had his best game against the undefeated Brown ten in the NCAA quarter-finals in Providence as he scored 3 goals ... 2 of the 3 goals were scorched back-to-back ... following recovery from knee injury his senior year at Severn, he had an impressive rookie season, playing in all 14 games as a back-up, then took over the starters job his sophomore year ... had 8 goals and 6 assists, the identical output as his rookie year ... saved his best game of sophomore year for his hometown Navy team as he scored 3 goals and added an assist ... at Severn, he had 25 goals and 20 assists his senior year ... was all-County all three years ... team won the Division II title his junior year, '87 ... also played football ... during the summer of '87, Craig was selected to play in the 19 under 25 member Junior World team ... on Super Bowl Sunday of '88, playing in a pick-up basketball game, he suffered a severe knee injury ... underwent surgery and was not able to play his senior year at Severn ... had to give up his selection place on the World Team ... his recovery was most successful and allowed him to play for the Terps for the '89 season ... his brother Chris was a four-year midfield letterman, 1985-88 for the Terps ... his younger brother Charles is a freshman midfielder and will redshirt this year ... this gives the Terps all three Bullens of Severn, and all midfielders.

A 2nd team all-American last year along with lst team all-Atlantic coast Conference ... a definite candidate for elevation to 1st team all-America and a repeat on the all-ACC lst team as well ... his brilliant play surely will qualify him as a front runner for ACC Player of the Year honors ... as a team tri-captain, it marks the second year in a row that he has been selected as a captain, the first such honor accorded an Edell player in his 18 years as a head coach ... truly one of the outstanding defensive players in college lacrosse ... during his career, he now this year will be a starter for the third consecutive season ... he has been and will be called upon to play, not only the top attackman, but the opponents' top midfielders ... his athleticism has enabled him to be effective anywhere on the defensive end of the field ... he scored a goal in the NCAA semi-final game vs Syracuse on his only shot of the year ... he showed his offensive skills as a freshman and his offensive threat any time he crosses the midline in offensive situations last year as he scored a "dream" 3 goals on 15 shots ... with his aggressive and strong clears, he hit for goals against Duke, Virginia, and Brown ... his goal vs Brown in the NCAA quarterfinals game at 9:18 of the 3rd quarter to give the Terps an 11-6 lead on their way to the 16-13 win over previously unbeaten Brown ten ... also in that game he made a super save on a close-in shot late in the game when goalie Steve Kavovit was out of the goal, helping to stymie a blistering rally as Brown hit for 7 goals in the last ten minutes as the Terps scored but two ... Edell rightfully labels Brian as a strong candidate for "Defensive Player of the Year" honors ... Edell thought he was the best defensive player in lacrosse last year ... a great team leader - but his leadership style is more effective - he leads by example ... a strong and intense competitor ... led the defensemen in ground balls with 75 as he also led as a sophomore with 52 ... he came to Maryland from Coach Jim Moorhead's program at St. Mary's as a highly sought after defenseman ... an honor roll student at St. Mary's his senior year ... was also a standout football player ... captained the lacrosse and football teams his senior year ... was first team defense all-County, junior and senior years and first team all-Metro, senior year ... was voted the teams'

Played in all 15 games last year ... after serving his rookie season that established him as a candidate to become a key addition to the close defense, Matt responded with a most impressive sophomore year ... the two-year letter winner is primarily a close defender ... he stands for a lot of things the coaches want to see ... he seems to get the most out of his intense desire to play and excel ... he maximizes his abilities ... one of the hardest working players on the team ... aggressive and hard-hitting defenseman ... has good speed and quickness ... a most capable and skillful back-up, one to watch. Came to Maryland following a fine two-year career at Calvert Hall ... captained the #2 ranked stick team his senior year ... also was a football letterman.

When Edell won the recruiting war a year ago when Danny and Steve Hayes cast their lot to play for the Terrapins, his efforts were rewarded as both had brilliant rookie performances and Danny was selected the coaches as the "ACC Rookie of the Year" ... his early standout play and recognition labels him as a future all-star with his all-America play for the three years ahead of him ... depending on the situation that was dictated, he played both close defense and in the defensive midfield ... is gifted, like Hayes, in all the things you look for in a defenseman ... has exceptional size, strength, speed and quickness ... he, along with Hayes, will be the backbone of the Terp defense in the years ahead ... A three-year letterman who earned a starting assignment his sophomore season and will, although the midfield units have been unsettled in the early pre-seasons practices, be a strong and experienced veteran to vie for his starting job with the first midfield unit ... his contribution will again be a key to the offensive power and scoring this year ... he is one of the players that has to have a great season ... has all the skills ... he demonstrated his finest hour for the Terps in the ACC win over Duke when he was a dominant force in the midfield ... Another of Edell's super freshmen of the '91 season ... the Long Island star was one of the most intensely recruited players of that year ... has the skills to challenge for a starting assignment for the wide open attack position, depleted by graduation ... will establish himself as one of the top future attackmen, headed for all-star performances and recognition ... although a sophomore, he got vast experience to be a veteran ... played in all 15 games ... started several games later on the season ... plays a hard-nosed style of lacrosse that is appealing ... plays a blue-collar type game - does scoring and feeding, riding, checking and a ground ball go-getter, all important to him ... scored 3 goals on 9 shots and had 3 assists ... his goals came in the Ohio State, Virginia and Rutgers games ... had 19 ground balls. Although virtually the entire midfield group of '91 return, the units will be unsettled until the season begins ... but it is surely a sure shot that Dave will be counted on to lead the play of the midfield units as a starter ... a three-year letterman, Dave is the last in line of the Terrapin Willard brothers ... this will be the 9th. consecutive and last year that a Willard has started for Maryland lacrosse ... out of the hot-bed of lacrosse West Genesee high school, Dave is the last of the midfield playing Willards ... With the loss of a pair of the all-time goal scorers in Terp history, Mark Douglas and Rob Wurzburger, the attack position took top priority in the fall and pre-season practices ... a number of combinations have been tried ... Edell and staff looked to their 3-year veteran and experienced offensive standout Wynot ... the switch isn't anything new to him ... he was flip-flopped his first two years ... he played attack his rookie season and midfield the past two ... moving him to attack was a step Edell took to help the team from experience standpoint and utilize his veteran play to create scoring power from inside ... to take better advantage for the attack, the flip-flop will work ... played in all 15 games last year ... scored 15 goals on 62 shots (25 points) and fed on 10 goals ... retrieved 32 ground balls ... his 25 points was 4th. high scorer on the team ... he scored goals in 10 of the 15 games ... his high output were the 3 goals he scored against C.W.
